The first difference is the electronics used. The Sportsman model comes with the Sportsman series electronics. The Sportsman transmitter is designed for only one launcher control. The Derby Double comes with the Pro Series electronics and the Pro Transmitter, which can operate multiple launchers. The second difference is in the sound system. Both models include the same standard sound system.<http://benefitsofgoinggreen.com/userfiles/deh-p3950mp-manual.xml>

The advanced sound option for the Sportsman gives you the Duck call. However, the advanced sound option for the Derby Double gives you all four sounds Duck, Pheasant, Goose, and Human. 2. Can I upgrade my Sportsman to a Derby Double Yes. Because the two models are the same mechanically, you can simply upgrade the electronics. Call Bumper Boy customer service department at 18007293822 to find out how to get your electronics upgraded. 3. Can I program my transmitter to operate my friends launcher when we train together Yes. Using a simple programming sequence, either transmitter can be used to operate both launchers. Periodically, Bumper Boy does software updates in their electronics and to be compatible, both sets of electronics must be on the same version. 4. How do I get my electronics updated To get the software updates for your electronics, call Bumper Boy customer service department for a return authorization number and then send in your electronics to them. They will install the new version and then ship them back to you. The update is done at no charge and all you pay is the shipping cost. 5. What kind of maintenance is needed for the launchers Bumper Boy recommends performing the basic maintenance described in your owners manual. Periodic cleaning and lubricating will allow your Bumper Boy launcher to operate to optimal performance. If you never clean or lubricate your gun, it will eventually stop firing. See your owners manual for more details. Also the o'rings at the end of the launchers tend to swell at times and make getting bumpers on a pain. All in all though I'm very happy with my purchase and plan on getting another in the future just because it is the closest to a bumper boy with a company that's still in business. BUMPER BOY was designed to provide a complete training system for dog trainers that have working retrievers, of any age. Driver should have known that some injury might ensue if he were to pass huge piece of paper. Aware something might have been under, a trash collector so should have known, and children were around. o A.W. v. Lancaster County School District Kindergartener sexually assaulted in restroom during school day. Administrators and teachers knew of threat and did not have safety plan or do everything they could've to prevent attack. Nonfeasance merely failing to prevent harm distinction misleading. Both killed by Thevis, convicted felon escaped from prison who Underhill working with FBI to catch. Underhill ignored advice to retain real estate agent and handled property on his own though. Refused to go into witness protection program and put out newspaper advertisement. Autonomy consent of the government rationale we legitimize govt by consenting to it bc it reflects their autonomous choices. Religion less able to hold society's moral sensibilities, social deterioration Exceptions. Failure to perform this duty was negligence. P argued liability due to nature of sport trusted welfare in people running event and bc officials did not have safety protocol for storm. Not just foreseeability but actual relationship between parties. P not under the control of D, P did not lose control of himself, able to leave at any time. Friends attempted to get security to stop him but security brushed them off. Generally no duty to protect against criminal acts of third parties bc acts are rarely foreseeable. Just reporting to police is not enough. States vary. Vermont has comprehensive duty to provide aid, immunizing for mere negligence, punishing willful violators with fine. Drunk men wandered onto highway and struck by car, one died, other seriously injured. So question is whether reasonably foreseeable that Parvi, sufficiently intoxicated to need being taken out of 8 city, when in dead of night, traffic noises, might wander onto the road and be hit.

Flagrant use is so antithetical to rights of land possessor to exclusive use and possession of land that land possessor should not be subject to liability for not exercising reasonable care. Entry that results in damage to land possessor's person, family, property Trichotomy Trespassers, Licensees, Invitees Nelson v. Freeland Stick in porch. D asked P to pick him up for meeting. P tripped over stick, suing. Duty to exercise reasonable care to protect him against both known dangers and those that would be revealed through inspection o NC eliminates distinction between licensees and invitees by requiring standard of care toward all lawful visitors. Application of trichotomy unpredictable, complex, confusing. Focus should be on whether owner acted as reasonable person under circumstances. Owners do not need to undergo unwarranted burdens but only reasonable care. Tadpoles, frogs, snakes. No ladder, sides slimy with algae. P found wife and 5yo son drowned in pool. Both had trespassed. Not understood how the money would do any good. We have no default duty rule. Bystander Cases I am a bystander to other negligent conduct, and because of negligent conduct, I suffer emotional distress running over my child DIRECT VICTIM CASES 11. Entails subjective actually felt in P and objective reasonable person would be affected component o Only responsible if you are constituted emotionally as an ordinary person would be if you have peculiar susceptibility to distress, will not compensate you. Really saying, the standard of care should be higher. If mother not in zone of danger and watches child almost get hit by car, mother is still scared for the life of her child, yet under zone of danger rule, no recovery Dylan v. Legg California Supreme Court case in 1968, broadened zone of danger rule to use foreseeability of a mother and her daughter witnessed death of other child in car accident caused by negligent driver. Both sued for emotional distress as a result of witnessing accident.

Dismissed due to zone of danger rule. P needed to be in physical danger of accident to recover, but overturned. They were closely related later understood as blood or marriage. Some variance of the above 3 factors would be included in most jurisdictions. Many required seeing the negligence. Now, in CA, P has to be present in and witness injury or threat. o Thing v. La Chusa Thing, minor and son of P Maria Thing, injured when he was struck by a car driven by James La Chusa. P was closeby, but did not see or hear accident. When P arrived, she saw her bloody and unconscious son and suffered emotional distress as a result. New Rule in California o P must be closely related to the injury victim, o P must be present at the scene at the time of the injury, and must be aware that the victim is being injured, and o P must suffer emotional distress as a result. How would you have argued. After his death, P depressed, seriously selfdestructive, suicidal, cut wrists so badly causing no sensation in portion of hand. Suing owner of building. Resulting severe emotional distress in P 13. Def built haystack near boundary of land, told dangerous, built precautionary chimney to prevent spontaneous fire, Caught fire anyways, and burnt down two cottages. Landowner under a general duty of care to use his land without negligently causing injury to others. The law takes no account of the infinite varieties of temperament, intellect, and education o Certain average conduct is necessary to general welfare o Average man of ordinary intelligence and prudence, determines liability by that o "A man may have as bad a heart as he chooses, if his conduct is within the rules. In other words, the standards of law are external standards, and, however much it may take moral considerations into account, it does so only for the purpose of drawing a line between such bodily motions and rests as it permits, and such as it does not." Dan B.

Dobbs, "Objective and subjective features of the reasonable person standard" o First part of clause man of ordinary negligence is objective standard o Second part under similar circumstances is not necessarily subjective, bc asking what reasonable person would do in light of the risks presented 15. D had seizures before, knew had seizure disorder which caused loss of consciousness. P says foreseeable D would seizure, so took unreasonable risk to drive. D says unavoidable sudden emergency epileptic seizure negates negligence o If did not exercise reasonable care, then breach. An actor is in breach if the burden of taking measures to avoid the harm would be less than the multiple of the probability of the kind of incident in question times the gravity of the harm should it occur, or B We are a nonprofit group that run this service to share documents.
